DIAMOND HEAD
CHARLIE'S WORK

For many years all Honolulu has depended on one man to announce the sighting of mail and freight steamers as well as the fleet of "windjammers." That one man is "Diamond Head" Charlie, as he is popularly known, or "John Chas. Peterson, Keeper Diamond Head Signal Station," as he is designated in the directory.

"Ste-e-mer—off Koko Head!" is the form of Charlie's announcement to the firms and persons downtown, whose business requires quick and instant notice of the coming of vessels. It is announced by telephone in a far-away voice with a foreign accent, but one thing is certain, the information is sure nine hundred and ninety-nine times out of a thousand. A few minutes after this telephonic message arrives in town the big-throated whistle of the Hawaiian Electric Company sounds three long blasts which can be heard in every part of the city. Then the whole town knows that in about two hours that steamer will be at the dock.

All hands, including government officials of many grades and various departments, agents' representatives, postoffice clerks, hotel and newspaper men, waterfronters, hackmen, messengers, shipping men, storekeepers, the large army of people "expecting friends," and frequently Captain Berger and the Hawaiian Band, make haste to get down to the dock to "see the steamer come in."

And so "Diamond Head" Charlie gladdens the hearts of thousands of people every week. The signal station keeper derives his novel sobriquet from the fact that the Federal lighthouse which is under Charlie's charge, as well as his little home and the telescope with which he ferrets out the steam and sail rangers of the ocean calling at this port, are located on the slopes of Diamond Head, the extinct crater on the eastern extremity of Honolulu.

It may be remarked in passing that but few mistakes in the identity of vessels are made by Charlie either in the day or night time, for his eye is trained by long years of experience.

PALESTINE LAND
MERRILL'S THEME

The usual men's meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the speaker being Rev. Mr. Merrill, a Baptist minister who is visiting Honolulu.

After a hymn had been sung, John Martin offered a prayer and Secretary Brown of the Y. M. C. A. read a passage of Scripture.

The speaker took for his subject "Palestine," and spoke for three-quarters of an hour on that fascinating country, his remarks being based upon personal experiences in the land of the Master, gained during a sojourn made there two years ago. The talk was of a very instructive and entertaining nature and was listened to with great interest by all present.

At the conclusion of the meeting and after a hymn had been sung and the benediction pronounced, the company adjourned upstairs and partook of dinner.

Mr. Merrill comes from Rochester, New York, and is making a tour of the world. Though considerably past the three-score-and-ten-year mark, he carries himself like a young man and his keenness and enthusiasm would be considered remarkable in a man twenty years his junior. He expects to visit China, Japan and India, after leaving

MR. RATH REPEATS
HIS NOTABLE TALK

Mr. James Rath of Palama Mission delivered his lecture on "How the Other Half Lives," which was so highly appreciated at the Thursday Club meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in the Methodist church last evening. In the absence of Rev. John W. Wadman, the pastor, President C. J. Day of the Y. M. C. A. presided, and in introducing Mr. Rath, spoke very highly of his work in Palama and referred specially to the enthusiastic and heroic assistance rendered him by Mrs. Rath. There was a very full attendance and the lecturer was followed with the closest interest from first to last, receiving at the close many expressions of appreciation for the thorough manner in which he had investigated and illustrated his subject. Mr. Wadman and Bishop Hamilton are touring the island in connection with the mission work of the church, both among the Chinese and Koreans.

here, returning home by way of Europe.

Since arriving here Mr. Merrill has done a lot of effective but unostentatious work in connection with local missions.

Cattle raising is carried on in Morocco on a large scale, but only by the natives. Moroccan horses are the finest in the world. Camels, mules and donkeys exist in large numbers and are the only means of transportation throughout the country.
